

Break-ins, Thefts Keep Police Busy During Weekend

There were three break-ins and robberies on the west side of town over the weekend, and earlier in the month, a house on Concession St. and a car owned by Toronto people were robbed. A suitcase containing clothes and other articles was taken from the car but Chief Constable James F. Leeder reports having recovered the contents of the suitcase in a bush in the northwest section of town where the loot had been hidden by the thieves.

Yesterday, Chief Leeder and his force were alerted by the alarm sent out following the robbery of the bank at King where $2,000 was stolen by two masked men carrying guns who held up the employees and customers in the bank.

The robberies over the weekend occurred Sunday night, Chief Leeder said. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bothwell on Arden Ave. was robbed of a ladies wristwatch. The home of Miss Lilian Smalley, John St., was robbed of two pairs of silk stockings. The house of Dr. L. Hewitt, Niagara St., was entered by forcing the door but nothing was reported stolen.

An earlier robbery was reported by Frank Cook on Concession St. where an electric razor and a toy bank containing approximately $5 was stolen.

Chief Leeder is warning all residents in Newmarket to make doubly sure their doors and windows are locked when absent from their homes.

Implacable Reaches Canada, 'Marvellous Sight,' Wren

Wren A. C. Willmot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Willmot, stationed at Vancouver, in a letter home, Oct. 12, says:

"Yesterday the aircraft carrier H.M.S. Implacable came into harbor from Manila with 2,100 p.o.w. I was able to be at the pier, with thousands crowding around. It certainly was a marvellous sight to see that huge mass of steel coming through the mist. It berthed at Pier A at the foot of Burrard St. where the Victoria boat comes in, you will remember.

"The crew was fallen in on the flight deck and as they neared the pier they fell out and hundreds of people sat down on the bow. Most of the ex-prisoners were British army dressed in American uniforms. The looks on their faces were enough to make anyone weep.

"It took about seven hours to get them all off and on the trains that were standing by, ready to take them east. It certainly was a sight to see. When H.M.S. Glory comes in next week we (the Wrens) hope to get aboard.

"Many fainted while going through the carrier and all the ambulances in the city were called out."

A capacity crowd filled the Christian church on Friday, making it necessary to place chairs in the aisles, for the return visit of Dr. H. J. Tedder, internationally known English preacher, teacher, author and missionary. Dr. Tedder showed 1,500 feet of film taken by himself in Tokio, China, the Philippines, Borneo and India.

"The crying need behind all these scenes is for Christ," said Dr. Tedder. Referring to the Philippines, the speaker said that it was his firm conviction that this section of the world was upon the verge of a great spiritual awakening when subjected to the attack and occupation by the Japanese.

In speaking of his proposed trip of 3,500 miles which will extend above the Arctic circle and as close to the North Pole as human habitation is found, Dr. Tedder said that the purpose of this trip is to blaze new trails for future missionary endeavor. He plans to form a missionary organization whose business it will be to carry the Gospel over the trails he will blaze.

Before closing the meeting the speaker urged young people to dedicate their lives to God, listen for His call and then follow it regardless of cost.

The whole world is waiting for the simple but vital message of Christ, separated from denominational peculiarities and ritualistic forms, and needs men and women to dedicate their lives to this end, said the speaker.

Resume Speech Correction Instruction In Schools

Twenty-one children attended the first class of the season in speech instruction conducted by Mrs. Dorothy L. Bowman in the Stuart Scott school. These children who attended the first meeting were those suffering from speech defects who had been recommended to Mrs. Bowman by their teachers.

Mrs. Bowman expects to have a class a half-day each week in Stuart Scott school. At that time she will instruct children of school age. For those suffering from speech difficulties and who are under school age, Mrs. Bowman has stated that she would be glad to see them at her home, 60 Main St.

This work, as in the past, is being sponsored by the Newmarket Lions club. Mrs. Bowman, with considerable experience in speech correction work, completed a special course in California last winter.

INVITE PUBLIC TO HEAR TALK IN ST. PAUL'S

CAPT. A. D. PIPER
A special feature of the Newmarket Lions club meeting next Monday will be an address by Capt. Allan D. Piper, an amputation case of this war. At their meeting, the Lions will entertain as their guests, personnel of the Ninth Victory Loan organization and members of the Newmarket military camp.

Following dinner, the meeting will move upstairs to St. Paul's parish hall where Capt. Piper will speak. This part of the meeting begins at 8.15 and the public is invited to attend.

Capt. Piper was born in Waterville, Quebec, receiving his education at the Waterville high school and Earl Grey high school Montreal. He suffered the loss of both hands in a grenade explosion overseas and while still in hospital was notified of his promotion to captain. On his return to Canada he took up his duties as company commander in a large training centre. He is now back at work as foreman with his former firm, a Cornwall paper mill.

With woodworking as a hobby, he spends many a leisure hour in his well equipped basement workshop turning out articles of furniture that are a source of astonishment to his friends.

Young People's Leader Speaks Here Sunday

The speaker at both services at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church next Sunday will be Douglas G. Seaton, Toronto. Mr. Seaton has completed an arts course in the University of Toronto and is now a second year student in Knox College.

His experience in the church has been wide and varied. For several years he held office on the executive of the Toronto Council of Presbyterian Young People's Societies. In this capacity he was well known throughout Ontario as a young people's speaker. He was one of the leaders of the "Little Conference" of societies of Toronto Presbyterians held in Newmarket in February, 1941. As a student for the ministry, he has served on several mission fields, including two terms at Angus, Ivy and Baxter, and this past summer on Cape Breton Island, N.S.

From September, 1944, until March, 1945, he was under Presbyterian appointment to Sutton West and Mount Pleasant Presbyterian churches. During this coming fall and winter he will be associated with W. I. McElwain in St. Andrew's.

Mission Trails In North Planned By Evangelist

The co-operation of the ministers in the parishes adjacent to Newmarket will be sought in making the inter-denominational youth rallies, sponsored by the Ministerial Association in Newmarket, a success, it was decided at a meeting of the association Monday in the Christian church parsonage.

Present at the meeting were the president, Rev. Alexander B. Stein, and Rev. L. James Lake, Capt. Arthur Robinson and Rev. L. E. Sparks.

COUPLE CELEBRATES 25TH ANNIVERSARY
Ex-councillor and Mrs. Wm. Dixon were given a complete surprise on Thursday evening when about 75 friends and neighbors gathered at their home to help them celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary. Alex. Eves read an address following which they were presented with a silver tea service. Members of the Citizen-Soldier club committee were present and on behalf of the club presented Mr. and Mrs. Dixon with a coffee table. Mr. Dixon has been a member of the club since its beginning.

On Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Dixon held an "at home" when a large number of friends and relatives from different points gathered.

Inspector 'Very Pleased' With Commercial Dept.

Newmarket high school will hold commencement exercises November 9, J. W. Lockhart, principal, told the high school board at a meeting Monday. The exercises will open at 7 p.m. with a banquet in the school, following which there will be distribution of prizes and awards, with a dance rounding out the evening.

Monday, the high school was closed, Mr. Lockhart reported, because of furnace trouble.

The inspector of the commercial department visited the school recently and Mr. Lockhart stated that he "was very pleased" with the department. "The inspector approved the pupils going into plants to get practical experience," he said.

Mr. Lockhart asked the board to have filing cabinets installed in the three commercial rooms. The board agreed to pay the cost of finishing cabinets in the cafeteria after Mr. Lockhart reported that the teachers were planning to buy more dishes for the cafeteria.

CLEAR SCHOOLS UNDER 62 SECS. IN FIRE DRILL

Public school principals told the public school board that they were able to clear their schools when the fire alarm sounded in times ranging from 32 seconds to 62 seconds.

Principal H. A. Jackson told the board that his school was cleared in 40 seconds. Vice-Principal Fred L. Hall said that Alexander Muir school was cleared in 62 seconds. The little folk held up the drill, he explained. Vice-Principal Evelyn Denne said that Stuart Scott was cleared in 32 seconds.

Dr. G. E. Case, chairman of the board, told the board that the banquet for the graduating classes given by the Home and School Association had been "a grand affair." On a motion of L. H. Bovair, a letter of thanks from the school board will be sent to the Home and School Association.

Mr. Hall reported that the heating system of Alexander Muir was improved but that he had noticed a recurrence of smoke in the corridors. "I see that Aurora has called for plans for a new public school," reported Dr. Case. "With expenditures for fire escapes, lights and furnaces, we might be advised to follow their lead," said Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards. "Is one building, centrally located, the answer here?" asked C. Morden Carter.

The board instructed the secretary, R. L. Pritchard, to write a letter of appreciation to Dr. J. H. Wesley, medical officer of health, for his services in patch testing the school children for tuberculosis.

The enrolment report shows that there are 611 children registered as pupils in Newmarket public schools.

WAR II VETS URGED TO JOIN LOCAL ASSOC.

Bert Ward, newly elected president of the Newmarket Veterans' Association, in a statement this week, urged all veterans of this war to join with the older veterans in making the association the best of its kind. Mr. Ward stated that changes in the constitution of the association were pending and asked the advice and support of the servicemen of this war in bringing this about.

Mr. Ward said:

"For the past 12 months the Newmarket Veterans' Association has at various times discussed the need for changing a part of its constitution to meet the conditions of the present day. However it was decided to wait until the present war vets were home. Personally, I feel that sufficient numbers to give a fair representation of the feeling on this subject are now back with us."

"The constitution of this association was made after the last war. The vets of this war may have different views to the ones we had at that time. I know mine have changed since serving in the war just ended. The main item to be discussed at the coming monthly meeting is membership. I sincerely hope we shall have the greatest number of veterans at this meeting that have ever attended a meeting in this district."

"It is the hope of the Newmarket veterans to have a permanent home in the not too distant future. In the meantime the soldier's club is open to veterans every Thursday night. We are not going to ask you to listen to long winded speakers. It is your club so come in and have a good time. The entertainment committee will do all in its power to make these evenings pleasant."

"If you think you can play bridge, euchre, cribbage, or anything else get your name on the lists which will be on hand each Thursday night. Come on boys, we have challenges to all comers. We worked together during the war. Let us work together during the peace and build up a veterans' club second to none."

Ninth Loan For 'Restoration' Aubrey Davis Tells Rally; 'We Owe Debt, Let Us Pay'

"I would describe the Ninth Victory Loan as a Restoration Loan," Aubrey Davis, chairman of the York County North loan committee, told a pre-loan gathering at Pickering College last night. "This loan is being floated to restore our soldiers to civilian life, to restore industry to peacetime production, to restore our trade and commerce, and to restore the countries of Europe which have been so hard hit by war."

Joseph McCulley, headmaster of Pickering College and recently returned from England and the Continent, described the situation in Europe as "very grim." This winter will be worse than any other for the English, Mr. McCulley stated. Belgium and Holland and France are destitute, he said. "It is bad to be cold and it is bad to be hungry but it is very bad to be both hungry and cold," said Mr. McCulley. "Europe is that way now."

Rev. Henry Cotton drew a word picture of the scenes he had witnessed in military hospitals. "We don't know much about these men who are in hospitals, the men who are in hospitals, the men who are in hospitals," he said. "We can't restore their limbs nor their youth but we can make it easier for them. We owe a debt. Let us pay it to the full through the victory loan."

MEN OVERSEAS GIVEN START IN EDUCATION

Joseph McCulley, headmaster of Pickering College, arrived back in Newmarket Tuesday morning after a flight to Canada from England. Mr. McCulley went to England Aug. 7 to assist in the organization of Khaki University for Canadian soldiers in England.

Mr. McCulley described Khaki University as offering courses in first and second year university work equal to those provided in Canada. "A student is allowed to take two subjects and by intensive work and lectures, is able to accomplish in 13 weeks the equivalent of the 30-week university year. If he passes in his first two subjects and he will be staying overseas, he is allowed to take three subjects during the next 13-week period. In this way, he is able to take the 30-week course of five subjects as offered in Canada, in 26 weeks in England."

Mr. McCulley said that every effort was made at the university to break away from army life. While the students wore army battle dress, no decorations or badges of rank were allowed. The Khaki University is only one part of the army educational program. Mr. McCulley said he had opportunity to see other phases of that program including vocational training and matriculation studies on the Continent.

The Khaki University opened with an enrolment of 600 students and 60 faculty members. Among the students was Gnr. Kenneth Johns of Newmarket.

COL. E. A. BAKER

might enjoy the freedom we have today.

In the last war there were 216,000 casualties and in this war there were 110,000 casualties, the speaker continued. "In this war, there were 85 blinded, 1,905 amputation cases, 200 who were paralysed from the waist down," he said. "And there were 38,000 who never returned."

"We must leave no stone unturned to see that these men get a fresh start in life. It is a real job. There is no use saying the government must do this or that unless we are willing to help pay the cost. We all want to do the best for the men that have returned. Now we can do it through victory bonds."

"There is a tendency to let down now that the fighting war is over. We've got to pull up our socks and bring the effort we brought to fighting the war to solving the problems of peace. There is a lot to be done yet."

"We have to help starving Europe. If we turn away as we did after the last war, without helping Europe, that continent will become a hot-bed of trouble for the future."

Col. Baker was thanked by the principal of Aurora high school, J. H. Knowles, who had been classmate of the speaker at Queen's University.

Junior B, Midget Series Planned For Next Year

RUSSELL TERRY WEDS ELIZABETH HARRISON

A pretty wedding took place in September in St. Clement's Anglican church, Toronto, when Russell Vernon Terry, son of Mrs. H. R. Terry, Newmarket, and the late Mr. Terry, took as his bride Miss Elizabeth (Betty) Harrison, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Harrison, Toronto, and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Apps, Newmarket.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin and lace. The embroidered finger-tip veil was caught by the traditional orange blossom bandeau and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and bouvardia. Mrs. Albert Crawford, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and wore a gold crepe floor-length dress with matching headress and carried a bouquet of gladioli. Miss Jean Carrioch, cousin of the bride, and Miss Muriel Lee were the bridesmaids, wearing matching gowns of turquoise blue and shocking pink. Mr. Tunney, Toronto, was best man and Messrs. Ivan Davis and G. Jones were ushers.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, the bride's mother receiving in a heavenly blue crepe dress with black accessories and corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother assisted in a cameo blue crepe dress, black accessories and corsage of pink roses. The couple left on a wedding trip to Montreal. They will live in Toronto.

Mr. Terry attended public school and high school in Newmarket. He served overseas three and a half years with the signals corps, returning home in February.

NEW PUBLIC SCHOOL NEEDED SOON

It is most evident that Newmarket will need a new public school in the near future. Most pertinent proof of this is the crowding of existing schools. This year, the number of public school pupils in Newmarket reached a new height.
There is no indication that the present enrolment is a high water mark and that next year's enrolment will fall below this year's.

Forty or so homes, seven scheduled for this fall, will be built for veterans on the Marsh estate. It is not improbable that the town limits will be extended to include the north end. This will mean more children in the schools. The efforts of the industrial committee to bring new industries to the town imply a willingness to provide the employees in these new industries with the necessary services including schools.

Equally pertinent to the need of a new public school is the increasing cost of the upkeep of the present school buildings. The public school board is faced with major expenditures on three separate items, fire escapes, furnaces and lighting. It has been estimated by board members that the cost of meeting these items is in the neighborhood of $20,000. That sum would make a substantial down payment on a new building.

Another factor involved here is that once the furnaces are repaired, the lighting adjusted, and fire escapes installed, the upkeep will continue to be an expensive consideration on the budget.
Two of the three public school buildings are old and the cost of their upkeep climbs higher as the years pass.

Two difficulties present themselves as far as any immediate building program is concerned.
The first is the difficulty of obtaining the necessary materials. The second is the lack of a good site. The first will be met as the need for construction materials slackens and production increases. The second is one which can only be overcome by planning now.

The Stuart Scott site is not central. Neither the King George nor the Alexander Muir school grounds are large enough to enable the construction of a modern school building and still leave enough room for a large playground. The emphasis is on low buildings to house schools. A one-storey building having only the floor space of either the Alexander Muir or the King George would nearly fill their respective school grounds as they exist at present.

In line with any building program for the future is the need of planning for a site now. If the public school board could work in conjunction with the town council in the acquiring and disposing of municipal lands, a suitable site might be laid aside for a new school.

LEBEL COMMISSION EXONERATES DREW

Last week, the LeBel Commission returned its report on the hearing of the charges made by E.
B. Joffe, K.C., leader of the C.C.F. opposition party in the Ontario legislature at the time of its dissolution last May, that Premier George A.
Drew had established and maintained a secret political police organization for the purpose of spying on other political parties. In the words of Mr. Joffe, Premier Drew had established a "Gestapo."

Mr. Justice LeBel states in his conclusions on Mr. Joffe's charges that he is satisfied that Premier Drew did not establish a secret police office as was charged. He also states that according to the evidence, he is satisfied that Premier Drew was unaware of the activities of Osborne-Dempster, the police officer charged with being a political spy. Mr. Justice LeBel is, however, critical of the attorney general, Leslie Blackwell, who had received reports from Dempster but had dismissed them as being of little importance. Mr.

Blackwell should have discussed the reports with the police commissioner before dismissing them as being of no interest, the report states.

Mr. Justice LeBel does not find Osborne-Dempster the spy of the German or Italian model, as charged by Mr. Joffe. He finds Dempster guilty of providing confidential information for anti-C.C.F. newspaper advertisements from government files, and of unwarranted investigations into the C.C.F. party. He finds him also a man to whom rumor or gossip is truth if inclined towards his own opinions.

Mr. Joffe's charges, made during the election campaign, cost his party many seats in the new house. The voters' reaction might be taken as a refusal to accept any suggestion of a "Gestapo" in Ontario as true, rather, as a charge which could only reflect on those who made it. Yet, Mr. Justice LeBel has found a man who, had he more skill and ability, might easily have played the role he was charged with playing. And though Premier Drew and his cabinet are exonerated from all charges of using this man, there are others who would not have hesitated.

One fact stands out. Such a thing as a Gestapo can happen if a people is willing to accept its liberty for granted.

GOVERNMENT TAKES OVER PACKING HOUSES

The Canadian Federation of Agriculture has written a letter to the federal minister of labor, Humphrey Mitchell, urging the government to take over meat packing plants to avert interrupting the meat marketing program now underway.
In a statement Oct. 12, it was announced from Ottawa that plants in western Canada which were threatened by strike action had been taken over.

There is no question of the justification of the government action. Whatever the packing house workers' grievances, strike action to compel management to meet their terms must be avoided as long as the present emergency exists. The Canadian farmer with a heavy investment in meat marketing, the Canadian consumer on short rations, and the great need for meat in Europe are three reasons nothing should be allowed to stand in the way of the completion of present quotas.

From another point of view, however, if the packing house workers have a legitimate grievance which has been consistently ignored by the management, they could not choose a better time to strike as a means of bringing attention to their position. The government has recognized this and provided courts of arbitration to settle the disputes before they reach the strike stage. In the past, however, the courts have been slow. A streamlined arbitration board is also needed to supplement government action in taking over the plants.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY FUN FOR ALL

Monday of this week, at the invitation of Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales, representatives of various organizations, the schools, and youth societies met in the council chambers to discuss a Halloween program for Newmarket children and adults. Originally broached as a means to halt the vandalism of last year by offering a more attractive alternative, the idea has developed to proportion of a community masquerade party.

This is all to the good. The occasion is one that adults and children both can participate in with equal enjoyment. It is community entertainment with the emphasis on community talent and ingenuity. And most fitting, the masquerade will take place in the Memorial Arena, the community-owned arena.

With the popularity of moving pictures and the radio, the advent of the motor car as a swift and easy means of transportation, and more recently, the absence of so many of the young men and women caused by war, we have become increasingly dependent on others for entertainment. We have almost lost the ability to amuse ourselves.
Yet by and large, the greatest pleasures we can enjoy are those we provide ourselves. Community entertainments such as a community Hallowe'en masquerade can be a means of bringing us back to these self-made pleasures.

Those who are helping in the organization of the masquerade and program for the night deserve of every support. Even should the project not accomplish its primary objective, that of reducing the traditional vandalism of Halloween to more mild proportions, although there is no reason why it should not, to have carried out a successful community party and had the pleasure in doing so will be a feather in all our caps.

THE COMMON ROUND

By Isabel Inglis Colville

ANNIVERSARIES

Until I really began to ponder over them, I never realized just what makes an anniversary. As I pondered, I found what no dictionary ever told me—that anniversaries were telescopes, microscopes, books of memories and stepping stones.

With the use of our mental telescopes, we can project our minds back to the event, the anniversary of which we are now celebrating. Reaching our destination, we can use our microscope to study its advent and with a careful reading of our book of memories, we can put our stepping stones in good order for the future.

All this rambling preamble leads up to two anniversary celebrations I attended recently —one secular, one sacred.

On Saturday, Oct. 6, I had the pleasure of being present at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Madill, Fitch's Corners, when they received their friends on the 50th anniversary of their wedding day—their golden wedding anniversary. These two fine people had travelled a long road together and now friends and relatives had gathered to do them honor. Mrs. Madill received in a gown of black sheer with a corsage of sunset roses.

Having lived all their lives in York county, it was like reading a page of history to hear of the early days when apples, choice apples, were 40 cents a barrel and not too easy to get rid of in Toronto, when wheat sold for almost nothing and you could hardly get rid of pork.

If we could take a trip back to those days and bring back some of those commodities, the result isn't hard to imagine.

Mr. and Mrs. Madill's five daughters, Mrs. G. McClure, Mrs. A. Richardson, who received the guests in the afternoon, Mrs.
Peterson, Mrs. Moore and Mrs.
Morton presented their parents with $50 and the grandchildren gave a bushel basket of choice groceries and fruit. The one great grandchild, little Donna Thompson, presented flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Madill's neighbors did a charming thing. They presented the celebrants with a gold wool blanket accompanied by an appropriate card with the names of each in gold ink on the back. Many lovely cards also came to them.

A prettily decorated bride's cake adorned the dining-room

PINE ORCHARD

There was a full attendance at the meeting of the East group of the Women's Institute on Wednesday, Oct. 10, at the home of Mrs. Walter Johnston. The president was in charge of the business part of the meeting, after which Mrs. Percy Tidman was in charge of the program.
Roll-call was responded to by "A neighborly act." A paper on "Welcoming boys and girls of the service home" was given by Mrs. J. Pyle. A paper on "Our neighbors" was read by Mrs. J.
McMillan. A contest by Mrs. J.
Pyle and a duet by Misses Betty Hope and Verna McMillan brought the program to an end.
Lunch was served by the social welfare committee of Mrs. P.
Tidman, Mrs. J. Pyle, Mrs. B.
Dike, Mrs. W. Johnston, Mrs. G.
Thompson and Mrs. M. McMillan.

next meeting at the home of Mrs.
Jesse Lundy.

Union church supper. Mr.
Haight, who is 86 years of age,

Haight, on a farm now owned by

The house that Jack didn't build

In old-fashioned melodramas the mortgage was a threat to family security. Today it is just the reverse. Thousands and thousands of families live in peace and comfort in homes they own themselves because of mortgage funds made available through the Life Insurance companies.

WE'VE ALL HEARD of the house that Jack built, but nobody hears of the houses that thousands of Jacks haven't built. They've existed in dreams, or they may actually have been planned, but for one reason or another they have failed to materialize.

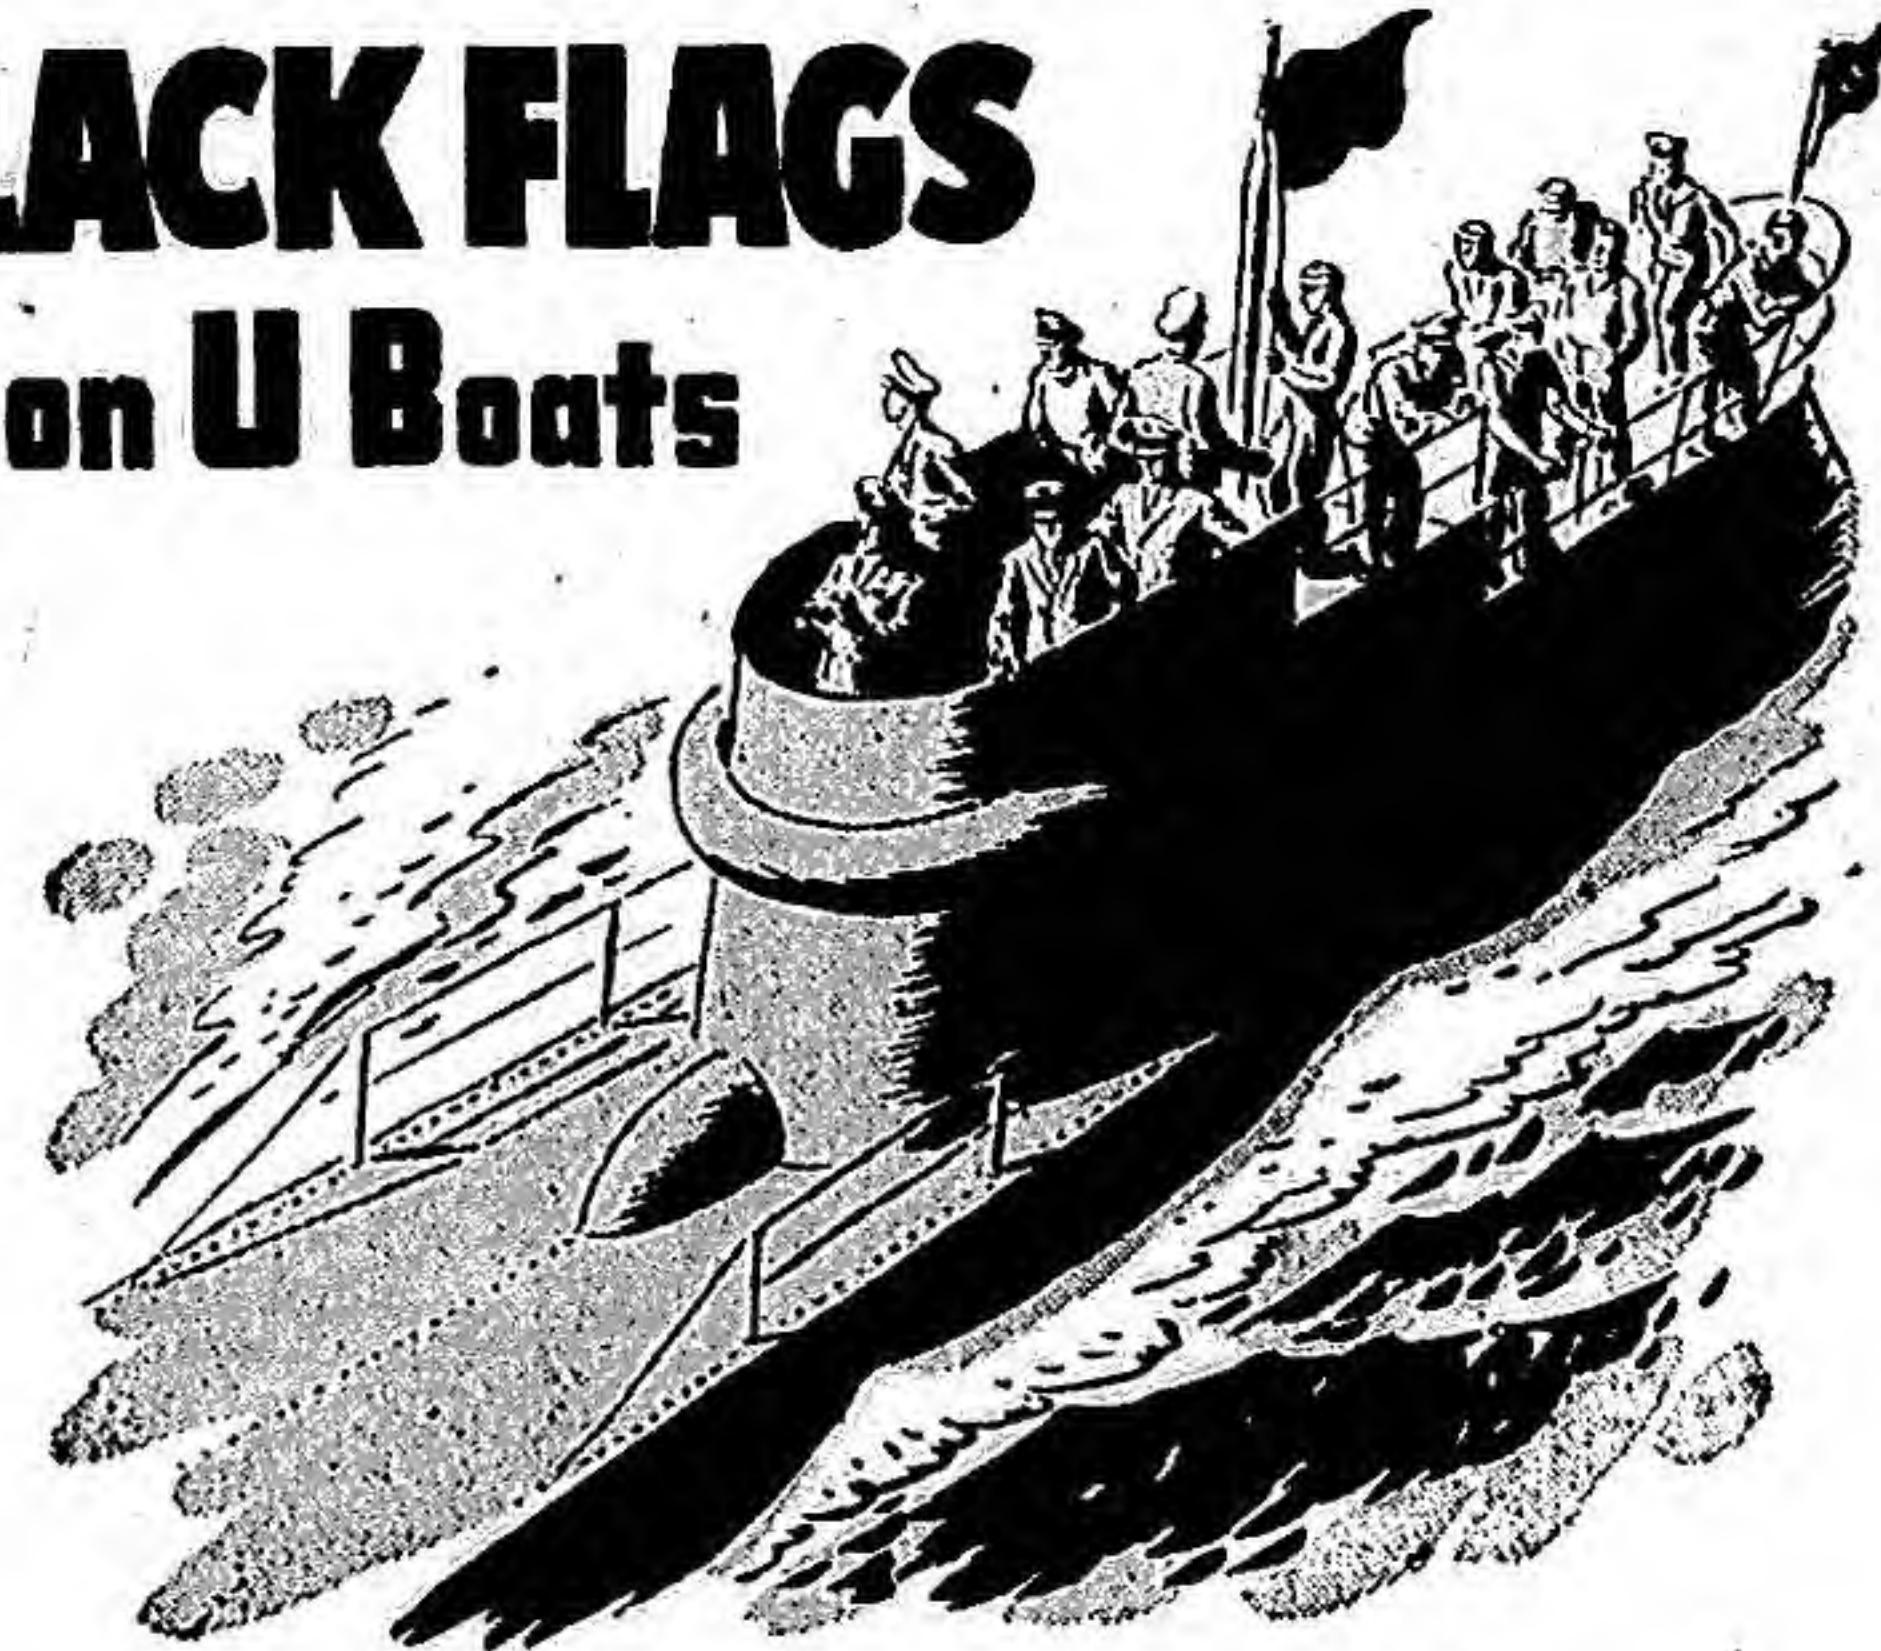

When you see an old weed-covered plot transformed into a street of cosy homes... when you see old tumble-down barns replaced by fine new buildings on prosperous farms... you can usually figure that a mortgage loan has helped these people to realize their dreams.

A portion of every dollar invested by Life Insurance companies has helped finance town and farm mortgages for solid thrifty borrowers all across Canada. The balance is in government and municipal bonds, industrial securities, etc. Life Insurance builds prosperity at the same time that it stands guard over the homes and loved ones of four million policyholders.

It is good citizenship to own

BLACK FLAGS on U Boats

When Nazi U-boat commanders hoisted black flags of surrender, it was a "go ahead" signal to the three out of every eight Canadians who normally depend for their livelihood on export trade.

For five years the flow of foreign trade has been largely a government responsibility. But now, to help create peacetime jobs, Canadian enterprise must do its full share in finding customers abroad. This means doing business all over the world, in strange and distant cities, in a hundred languages and currencies.

Canadian banks have a key role in this complicated but essential peacetime task. Every day their foreign branches and correspondents arrange credits, handle documents and perform other intricate operations to bring buyers and sellers together across the obstacles of distance, language and custom.

This banking service is of primary importance to business and to every Canadian worker as Canada turns to the task of re-creating trade abroad to provide jobs at home.

DOWN THE CENTRE

We salute this week ex-warden of York county, Bill McDonald, reeve of New Toronto, and known for his municipal savvy and flare for politics throughout the county. Bill's good horse, Tulachmore, who has been a favorite with the Canadian racing fans the past three years, has created a record by ousting Beau of the West from the pedestal of being the greatest money-winning horse in the history of the Canadian track. Tulachmore has now won a total of $51,370 in a matter of five years and should go for several more years yet to reach perhaps the 100 grand by the Seagrams, reached a $49-mark. Beau of the West, owned 730 total in nine years.

The record is all the more remarkable when it is considered that Mr. McDonald, against the wish of his advisers, bought Tulachmore at a yearling sale of thoroughbreds for $850, anteing the price from the low hundreds to a figure no one would even bid against. It is a fair sample of man possessing what is called "horse sense." Another feather in his headress is the fact that three years ago, without any special training, he decided to oust his trainer and take over the job of handling his stable himself, this plus a law practice, business and municipal interests.

It was revolutionary but it worked for under his guidance Tulachmore has amassed his huge total of winnings. Mr. McDonald believes a horse is like a human being, give it good surroundings, pick out the spots, keep it happy, and with natural ability it can't miss. He also has good assistants and they do their job and he does his. That's fair rule to apply in any sphere of life, and the return from his investment, aside from bets, is something to marvel at.

1945 has not been kind to Fred Scheike of Gormley, and Tulachmore's great rival, Shepperton. Shepperton was only a few thousand dollars behind Tulachmore to start the year, but that injury of last season has apparently made Fred decide to rest his big grey rather than run the risk of permanent injury. A match between the two would be of great interest to all for they are without doubt the pick of the Canadian stakes horses.

While on the subject of financial returns from racing take the case of Elizabeth Arden, cosmetic expert, and former North York girl. The total winnings of her extensive stable to-date is no less than $444,755, with some weeks yet to go. Only one other owner on the American continent has a better record and that is Louis B. Mayer, Hollywood movie producer, whose gee-gees have won a few thousand more. With both these two, racing started as a sideline. Now it is in the nature of big business.

Racing is not a poor man's game either by the way of owning horses or following them at the mutuels. "I'm as has gets," according to the old slogan, and it seems a mighty true saying in most cases. Guess you and I'll leave owning horses alone, but dreaming doesn't hurt anyone and if you know of a good one, brother, "I'll buy that dream."

Scotty Mair, according to our old friend Piper Bain, manager of the Owen Sound arena where the Leafs are in training, is cutting quite a dash in practice and will give some of the regulars quite a battle before it is all over. Seaman Mair will be on hand until at least the Blues and Whites play and perhaps after that. As we hear it, the Newmarket boy is anxious to go first class in pro or not at all, otherwise preferring a bit of amateur hockey with an eye cocked on the business world and the future. He has a pretty fair offer to go to the Pacific coast, according to Geo. Ahearn of Halifax, where Scotty played for navy last winter, and who when in Toronto not so long ago was looking for a bit of hockey talent for the Maritimes.

Our thanks to Frank Selke of the Leafs for that letter re the Maple Leaf hockey dinner. Owen Sound, incidentally, has thought better of playing senior hockey and will concentrate on the intermediate "A" variety which gives them good grouping, cuts down on long trips, and will draw just as well at the gate. Al Dewsbury, of Toronto Young Rangers, who also played bush-league hockey in the Richmond Hill circuit, is working out with Omaha Knights. Another candidate for the same team is ex-sailor Bernie McCarthy who performed with both Markham and Unionville juniors not so long ago in these parts. McCarthy is a Toronto boy.

George Mara, who was the star of Upper Canada College back in 1940 in that never-to-be-forgotten series which saw Aurora Tigers out the Primeau coached collegians at the Gardens, and who was a nemesis for St. Andrew's College teams for many years, is out of the silent service and has turned up with the Leafs. George has not played a great deal of hockey since going on active service and will probably find it pretty tough going at Owen Sound. He will probably end up with Red Horner's Staffords senior club.

Artificial ice is going over big in Barrie and it would pay some of the civic fathers in these parts to take a trip up north and see how it is all done. We took in the St. Louis Flyers-Buffalo-Forth Worth games and they attracted pretty good crowds for so early in the year and considering the fact that they were purely of an exhibition nature, although the way the boys mauled one another you wouldn't think so.

Nakina Smith, who back in 1933 centred the Sudbury Wolves against Newmarket Redmen in the Memorial Cup game, caught our eye. "Dalton," who hails from Cochrane, claims 30 to be his age, and if anything he looks better than he did 12 years ago. He has had a hectic career, up to Americans to New Haven, Canadians, St. Louis and Buffalo among others. He is looking forward to renewing acquaintances with Normie Mann, who will be with Pittsburgh this winter. He still figures the Sudbury team should have won over the Redmen in the series, but thinks the Redmen were about as good a club as he ever played against. The net-minding of Ran "Faintner" Forster still remains a vivid picture to Smith. Nakina has two younger brothers playing professional hockey.

Rudy Pilous, coach of St. Catharines juniors, was in charge of the Buffalo club in the absence of Art Chapman, with Frank Beisler as playing coach. Lloyd Finkbeiner, who played for Midland against Sutton Greenshirts in 1942, came back to monied hockey with Buffalo after an absence of three years, and he was going great guns against the Flyers. Finkbeiner, it will be recalled, played softball on several occasions last year for Newmarket camp and was also a member of the Toronto army team before being discharged.

Connie Dion, last year with Detroit Redwings, now with St. Louis, caught our eye with his fine work in scoring a shut-out. Connie is not very big but he has plenty of grey matter. He is a clean living fellow and at 27, knows the score. He is very unassuming but doesn't hesitate to give out with the information when asked. He left the Canadian army in 1943.

Con says Bill Cowie and Sweeney Schriener were his toughest opponents to outguess, and he also paid tribute to the work of Maurice Richard, Toe Blake and Herbie Cain. How in the world Hee. Highton, last year with the Black Hawks and now with St. Louis, merits pro rating we don't know. We saw him with the Hawks last year, and (Continued on Page 8)

Court Of Appeal Upholds Decision Against Publisher

The following is the judgment handed down by a court of appeal consisting of Chief Justice Robertson and Mr. Justices Gillanders and Laidlaw upholding the decision of Mr. Justice Hogg in the Supreme Court of Ontario in the proceedings brought by the publisher of The Newmarket Era and Express, Andrew O. Hebb, against William P. Mulock, and against The Newmarket Era and Express Ltd.:

Gillanders, J. A.: Mr. Justice Hogg, by a judgment dated April 4, 1945, dismissed the appellant's action to set aside the allotment to the individual respondent, Wm. P. Mulock, of 25 shares of treasury stock in the corporate respondent, The Era and Express. From that judgment this appeal is taken.

The appellant, Andrew O. Hebb, was the owner and editor of a newspaper known as The Newmarket Era, published in Newmarket, and the respondent, Mulock, controlled, by the beneficial ownership of shares which, however, were not standing in his name, another newspaper also published in Newmarket under the name of the Express-Herald.

For some time the appellant had been endeavoring to interest the respondent, Mulock, in the amalgamation of the two newspapers on some mutually agreeable plan. Finally in 1942, through the intervention of N. L. Mathews, K.C., a solicitor favorably known to both of the parties, they arrived at a satisfactory basis for amalgamation, involving, inter alia, two basic objectives: (1) the publication of one newspaper of an independent political character in place of two newspapers then being published; (2) the equality of interest and control between the appellant and the respondent, Mulock.

An agreement in writing dated May 9, 1942, covering the proposed amalgamation was prepared and duly completed between the parties. Various provisions of this agreement are of importance in the issues involved in this appeal and it seems desirable to have in mind the relevant matters it covered and on certain points its express provisions.

It had been agreed in the course of discussion between the parties, that part of the assets of the appellant's newspaper would be transferred or sold to the corporation operating the respondent's paper and that the name of the latter corporation be changed to Newmarket Era and Express Limited. It was agreed that these assets were greater in value than those of the respondent's company passing into the amalgamation by the sum of $2,500. To carry the purposes of the parties into effect, the agreement provided for the issue to the appellant in payment for the assets he was transferring, of 161 shares of stock in the corporation which was to own and operate the continuing newspaper. The respondent, Mulock, was to retain as compensation for the assets of his company being retained and used, 136 shares of stock in the continuing corporation. In addition to retaining the 136 shares of stock, the agreement expressly provided as part of clause 3, that the respondent "shall have the option of purchasing a further 25 fully paid up shares of the treasury stock of the company, at a price of $100 per share, at any time within a period of 18 months from the date hereof."

The agreement further provided for the appellant acting as a director of the continuing company and for the respondent, Mulock, who did not wish to personally act as a director, appointing a nominee. Provision was further made for each of the parties transferring one share of stock in trust for the benefit of each of the parties to N. L. Mathews, K.C., in whom both parties had confidence, and for the appointment of Mr. Mathews "in order that the said Norman L. Mathews may be the third director of the said company representing both parties."

Provision was made for Mr. Mathews holding office for a period of two years, and for continuing for a period of two years unless he should resign or one of the parties give notice that he was "no longer satisfactory," this agreement to continue for recurring periods of two years until terminated by resignation or notice, as specified. In the event of death, resignation or termination of his office by notice, as provided, it was agreed that the parties would endeavor to agree on some other person to act as trustee and director in his place, and in the event of their failure to so agree within a period of three months, then the two shares held by Mr. Mathews were to be transferred one to each of the parties. In the event of a successor to Mr. Mathews being appointed, it was provided that such successor should act as trustee and director under the same terms and conditions stipulated with regard to him.

Clause 13 of the agreement provided:

"13. The purpose of this agreement to amalgamate the two businesses is to carry on a printing and publishing business, and in particular to publish an independent weekly newspaper, that is to say, a newspaper which, while striving to report all viewpoints as the publisher and editor may judge matters worthy of space, shall not owe any allegiance to any political party, or any other group or individual, and shall be free to criticize or commend any political or other party or group, government, or individual, within the bounds of fair comment, as occasion may arise in the opinion of the publisher and editor. The directors shall not interfere in the editorial or news policy of the newspaper as above set forth unless such policy is in their opinion contrary to the spirit of this agreement and to the conduct of an independent newspaper, or is prejudicial to the best interests of the newspaper."

Clause 14 provided in part:

"14. It is understood that the directors shall appoint the party of the second part as publisher and editor of the newspaper to be published, but may dismiss him upon three months' notice, if, in their opinion, he is not conducting the business in a reasonably successful manner, or is not carrying out to a reasonable degree the intention of this agreement..."

Provision was made for a minimum salary to be paid to the appellant as publisher and editor, subject to increase "as the directors shall deem advisable." It was provided that the publisher and editor should have full authority to manage the business "subject, however, to the approval of the directors."

Following the execution of this agreement, the appellant, on May 14, 1942, published an announcement of the impending amalgamation of the two newspapers in his newspaper, The Newmarket Era. This notice stated in part: "The stock will be so arranged that no shareholder will hold a controlling interest and thus the paper will be free to maintain an independent character." Notice of the proposed amalgamation was also published in the respondent's newspaper. Apparently the amalgamation was effected and the appellant assumed the duties of publisher and editor of the amalgamated paper, and matters went along without incident until February, 1944.

At the time of the making of the agreement, the respondent, Mulock, for several reasons not important here, had desired some time to arrange payment of the $2,500 which would, on the valuation agreed upon, give the parties each an equal interest in the ownership of the company publishing the amalgamated paper. The respondent apparently did not keep the matter in mind and it was February, 1944, nearly 21 months after the date of the agreement when, following an inquiry from him as to when, according to the agreement, he should take up the balance of the stock, it was found that the 18 months' period had expired. Miss Lyons, a member of the firm of solicitors consulted by Mr. Mulock, who had drawn the agreement for both parties, and who was also the respondent's nominee on the board of directors, spoke to the appellant, telling him of the inquiry, that it appeared the 18 months had expired and suggesting that probably this made no difference to the appellant. The appellant's answer to this was prompt. "I said that I would come and see her, and I saw her the same day and told her that I was going to take another position, and I therefore was of the opinion that either one party or the other should control the business and that I was ready to sell my interest to Col. Mulock, and alternatively that I would ask that my wife be appointed a director and I would assume responsibility for the operation of the paper, that my wife be appointed a director instead of Mr. Mathews. I said that I would sell at the amalgamation price of $11,000 without taking into account what depreciation had taken place since then."

Some negotiations followed the appellant's suggestion that he would sell out his interest completely. It would appear that at that time he had in mind giving up his position as publisher and editor of the newspaper and, in fact, in September, 1944, he took another position.

On April 24, 1944, the appellant wrote to the respondent, Mulock, wanting to know whether or not he intended to accept the appellant's offer to sell out, stating in part: "I must know whether you are going to take the ownership or whether I am to take control and responsibility."

On May 3 the appellant again wrote "asking that Mr. Mathews return to me the share that he holds in trust for me, and that my wife be appointed a director, and I would ask that you choose between Mr. Mathews and Miss Lyons, the third director." He wrote the respondent again on June 2 in part: "Our amalgamation agreement, you will remember, contemplated that you would take up 50 percent of the ownership, and provided for a trusteeship by Mr. Mathews, who was to hold a share in trust from each of us and to act as the third director. That arrangement worked very well but will not be appropriate now, when I must assume the responsibility for operating the business." He continues, purporting to give notice, pursuant to the agreement, that Mr. Mathews is no longer satisfactory to him as a trustee (although stating that he "has co-operated with me in every way") and asking for a meeting of shareholders to elect as two of the three directors his wife and himself.

No agreement having been reached on buying out the appellant's interest on June 5, 1944, the respondent, Mulock, made written application to the respondent company for the purchase of 25 shares of capital stock and attached to his application his certified cheque for $2,500.

A meeting of directors was held on June 9 at which, by a majority of two to one, the appellant voting against it, a resolution was passed accepting the respondent's offer and allotting to him the 25 shares of capital stock for which he had made application. The appellant then commenced this action.

It is urged that in purporting to accept the respondent's application and allot to him the shares in question, the directors were exceeding their powers—that the purported allotment was not made bona fide in the interest of the respondent company but with the object and result of benefitting the respondent, Mulock, and depriving the appellant of voting. The whole issue turns on the validity of the allotment in question.

It is a well settled and salutary principle that directors must act bona fide for the interest of the company. Percival v. Wright (1902) 2 Ch. 421; Punt v. Symons and Co. Ltd. (1903) 2 Ch. 506 at 515 and 516. In Martin v. Gibson (1906) 15 O.L.R. 623 at 631, Boyd C. says: "The underlying principle of action is to be found in the language of Romilly, M.R. in York and North Midland R.W. Co. vs. Hudson (1853) 10 Beav. 485, 491, where he says: 'A resolution by shareholders... that shares... shall be at the disposal of directors, is a resolution that it shall be at the disposal of trustees; in other words, that the persons instructed with that property, shall dispose of it, within the scope of the functions delegated to them, in the manner best suited to benefit their cestuis que trust.' Now, the persons to be considered and to be benefited are the whole body of shareholders—not the majority, who may for ordinary purpose control affairs—but the majority plus the minority—all in fact who, being shareholders, constitute the very substance (so to speak) of the incorporated body."

To the same effect is the statement of Hodgins, J.A. in Trustee of the Property of C. E. Plain Ltd. v. Kenley and Royal Trust Co. 1931 O.R. 75, at p. 81: "It has been laid down that a company cannot issue shares for the purpose of acquiring control of a company, for the reason that in issuing shares they are trustees of a fiduciary power given to them to do so, not for the benefit of individual shareholders but to be exercised bona fide for the general advantage of the company alone and not for other purposes. (See Piercy v. S. Mills and Co. Ltd., (1920) 1 Ch. 77).

Palmer, in the 11th edition of his work on Company Law, says at p. 193: "In exercising these powers" (i.e. those authorized or not forbidden), "whether general or special, directors must always bear in mind that they are trustees for the company and must exercise the powers for the benefit of the company, and for that alone."

Much importance was placed by the appellant on the provisions of clause 3 of the agreement giving to the respondent, Mulock, an option to purchase a further 25 shares of stock at $100 per share at any time within a period of 18 months. It was strongly urged that the stock not having been taken up within the 18-month period, the control of the company was thereupon left with the appellant and any subsequent allotment of stock which would interfere with the appellant's control, is void and illegal.

For the respondent it is urged that the 18-month period only had relation to the price of $100 per share.

The appellant does not complain about the price admitting it was sufficient if the respondent had the right to take up the stock and therefore it is urged that the option to purchase was still open. It is suggested that the use of the word "option" is a misnomer and that on a proper construction of the agreement the respondent was in fact bound to take up the 25 shares of stock, that time was not of the essence and that the application by and allotment to the respondent of the stock in question was only in fulfillment of what he was in fact bound to do.

A.H.S. Athletes Turn Out For Field Day Despite Weather

Despite wet and cold weather, Aurora high school athletes concluded the annual field day on Monday afternoon. The meet, originally scheduled for last Friday was half completed when rain intervened. The elements slowed up this year's crop of athletes with the result that only one record fell, but the times indicated that given a break, the '45 track and field entrants would have shattered one or two marks.

Bill Mundell, young Aurora all-round athlete, annexed the senior title with ease, scoring nine firsts and one second in the ten events in which he competed for a total of 49 points. He gave especially good performances in the shot put and running broad jump. Gordon Gunton was runner-up, and Stan. Bahrey and Charlie McNaught also turned in nice performances.

Lucille Case, who set a new record in the soccer kick, booting the roundball 40', 7", won the senior girls' honors with Clair Bryan as runner-up. Jacqueline Thompson was also prominent during the meet.

Keith Kyle won the boys' intermediate title with Bill Linton as runner-up. Kyle scored in every event he entered, while Linton annexed the jumping events, displaying some nice form. Marie Wilson was declared intermediate girls' champion with Barbara Case close behind. Dorothy Martin was another leading contender for honors.

Ralph Rank and Anne Boulding were crowned junior champions in heavily entered classes. Ralph excelled at the sprints and Anne at the jumps. Jim Ross and Edna Pringle were runners-up in the two classes.

The team prize went to the gold team captained jointly by Bill Mundell and Jacqueline Thompson.

Willison Crichton and June Coleman were head clerks while Bruce Underhill handled the announcing. Major N. F. Johnson, back at the school from active service, was starter for the races and Wilfred Adams and Arnold Miller acted as timers. Principal J. H. Knowles and the other members of the staff kept things working smoothly. Prizes will be presented at commencement exercises.

Following the meet, a dance was held in the auditorium, and a refreshment booth was operated by the Aurora high school Junior Red Cross. The results were:

Lists have been supplied to Mrs. Nesbit by the churches, high school and from newspaper records, but it still may be possible that some names have been omitted. Relatives of those who enlisted should communicate with Mrs. Nesbit to make sure the list is in order.

As the town is intending to place an order shortly for a suitable memento and the committee desires to know how many must be looked after, it is urgent that these names be forwarded without delay.

ST. ANDREW'S SCORES FOURTH STRAIGHT WIN

St. Andrew's College first continued to roll over their opponents on the gridiron as they scored their fourth win in a row by defeating Pickering College on the latter's grounds last Friday, 35-1. The contest was never in doubt. The lone Pickering point came in the second quarter as a result of a kick to the deadline. The half ended 16-1 for S.A.C. Blake Taylor scored three touchdowns for the winners with Gord Middleton getting two. Fraser Smith, Errington and Collet accounted for the remainder of the points. In four games, St. Andrew's have scored 130 points, while conceding ten to their opponents. Next Saturday they visit Toronto for the opening of the Little Big Four series.

Major N. F. Johnson, former member of the Queen's York Rangers, who has just returned to civilian life after three years and some months on active service, showed the reservists he hadn't lost his eye as he visited Long Branch range on Sunday. Major Johnson posted a 98 out of a possible 100.

'Let's Go Over The Top,' Loan Chairman Urges

Next week Aurora citizens will be called upon to face one of the biggest tasks in their history as the Ninth Victory Loan campaign gets underway. This year the task of putting the drive over is in the hands of A. E. L. Maughan, chairman, Floyd Corner and Flt.-Lieut. Anson Gilbert, D.F.C., recently discharged from the R.C.A.F. Mayor Ross Linton, William West and their co-workers will again be in charge in the industrial plants.

Members of the Aurora organization attended the pre-loan dinner at Pickering College on Wednesday evening and came away convinced that they can put Aurora over the top. "We are going to require the co-operation of all to do the job, but we know the people of Aurora will not want to lag behind the rest," said Mr. Maughan. "This is really a double loan, hence our quota will be up. Let's go over the top."

Plan Home, School Ass'n If Sufficient Interested

For some weeks past many Aurora mothers and interested citizens have been quietly considering the need for the formation of a Home and School Association in Aurora. As a preliminary to the organization of such a group a number of Aurora ladies met at Aurora public school on Monday afternoon with Principal J. G. McDonald and discussed school problems and the necessary steps that should be taken in the formation of a club and what aims and objectives it might have.

Those who met were enthusiastic about the project and are gathering further information before calling a larger meeting of those interested. Mrs. John Ardill has consented to act as chairman and Mrs. Hugh McRae as secretary for the purpose of getting the necessary data and of reaching those who should be interested in the matter. It is hoped to call a meeting was a guest speaker in a few weeks time when a Home and School Association will be formed if sufficient members are interested.

Roast Beef, Pumpkin Pie As Lions Banquet Teams

Aurora Lions club played host to members of the champion Aurora bantam club, York Lions baseball winners, and to members of the midget team, who also made a creditable showing, Thursday evening. Twenty-three boys were present for the occasion.

A beef and pumpkin pie dinner was provided in the basement of the Masonic hall and entertainment was provided by a magician from Toronto, Stewart Henry, and Pte. David Ferguson. Barbara Bowman was pianist, and President Charles Copland welcomed the boys on behalf of the club. He told the youngsters the Lions were well pleased with their sportsmanship, and gentlemanly conduct both on and off the field. There was more to sport than just winning and the Aurora boys were a credit to the town and their parents, he said.

Lion Leonard Simmons, chairman of the sports committee, gave a report on the year's work and told of the success achieved not only by the bantam team but by the older boys who had played with Newmarket in the O.B.A. playdowns. Baseball was well established in the district, now, and it was Aurora which had led the way along with Richmond Hill, he stated. "Everywhere we went there was comment about the way the league was run, and the character-building effect of good clean sport on the boys," he stated. He had heard much favorable comment on the behavior of the Aurora team and he felt that in another year or so title winning teams from the district would win provincial honors, Mr. Simmons declared.

Delroy Babcock introduced each member of the teams and the boys were presented with crests. Co-coach Bill Holloway also addressed the meeting and told of plans for next season. Both Mr. Babcock and Mr. Holloway were warmly applauded by the players and Lions for their work.

A pie-eating contest, with four seniors at bat, aided by four of the bantams, was won by Bill Mundell. All eight received awards. Tracy Barrager and Mac Urquhart acted as assistants to the magician.

The event was greatly appreciated by the boys who went away declaring the night as "tops" and "the right way to end the season."

club over 22 and they played pro hockey like a junior team in action. All the boys with the exception of two from Sudbury, one from Guelph and one from Timmins, came from west of Winnipeg, one player, right winger Sam Jones from Saskatoon, was only 16, too young for pro but all right for Washington Uline, which will be the farm team for the Shore system of chain hockey. Shore has three juniors, Eisenzoph, Bedard and "Wimpy" Jones, whom he claims are the three best junior players in Canada today. That's a broad statement but the trio are certainly smart operators.

Fourth Worth plays under the name of "Rangers" and are coached by Paul Runge. You can call it an oddity if you like, but of 16 players on hand, not one had ever been to Fort Worth, or Texas, nor had the scout or coach. Another oddity was that there wasn't a player on the

On Saturday we met a lad who had just returned from the training camp of the Boston Bruins at Quebec City where he had been trying out for a week. We know the lad's possibilities and he certainly is a fine prospect but we respect his intelligence in returning to his steady job, rather than accept a job with Boston Olympics in U.S. amateur. He will not find it hard to augment his income with either intermediate or mercantile hockey.

Joint McComb, he says, is as good in practice as any player Boston has, but he says he had not been given a fair shake up to the time he left and Joint was figuring on returning to play mercantile hockey. Pro hockey is pretty clanny, believe it or not, and when joining a club means ousting some of the regulars, it is very hard to get co-operation from some of the veteran players. Boston not only has the players they have been using in wartime, but there are the returns from the armed forces so an amateur prospect has to be terrific to make good. There will be lots of players miss pro this year, who if they had turned pro one or two years ago, would now be accepted for that rating without question. We had hoped McComb would make good in his big chance in hockey and we still think he can if given the chance. The results of the next few days will tell, if it is as was told to us.

Bep Guidolin, according to our informant, is going to be mighty lucky to hang on with the Ross-Clapper team this year with the form he is displaying. Guidolin, of course, has been playing pro in other years which gives him a certain amount of prestige and standing that McComb lacks but again, as was the case in services hockey, McComb stands out as a better performer. The actual final reckoning for the two of them will perhaps give us a decision as to whether or not there is anything to the suggestions passed out to us. Chuck Millman, big Stratford boy who starred with Calgary, is one amateur who will make the grade on the Bruins defence this year according to reports.

Our face was red as we heard first hand and then read later that far from being in Winnipeg, Herbie Cain was actually in Boston. We guess we weren't the only ones surprised either for some of Cain's golf friends figured he was bound for Winnipeg at the same time we did. What exactly happened is not known to us at this time. Suffice to say that the appearance of the pride of Newmarket at Quebec means he doesn't want to report for duty with the Rangers and that he will be with the Bruins again. We asked how Herb was going when we learned about McComb and the answer was "great". It can be taken as a great thing that Herbie will take his place again with the beanthrowers, most satisfactory for all concerned.

The Krant line is back again with Boston and is receiving most of the attention and publicity with the Bruins. That they will be as good as ever is too much to expect. That they will still be better than most lines in action even though below their par form goes without saying. If Brimsek returns to the nets, Boston may well be the team to beat this year.

Billy Hewitt, secretary of the Ontario Hockey Association, has clarified for us the situation regarding the remuneration to clubs for former players who turn professional. The club's claim goes back six years and every club within that period shares according to the number of years the player has played for them. In other words, a player turning pro this year must have played with the amateur club no earlier than the season of 1940-41. If this ruling is to be taken as read, a great harm will be done the parent clubs because it includes war years. We see no reason, for instance, why the years spent on active service should count as the service clubs concerned will have disbanded. In any case, being more or less government sponsored, with good canteen reserves behind them, they do not need the money like the small amateur clubs. But for the war, it can be argued, these lads would have made pro hockey earlier, so we think it can be fairly argued that the time spent with service clubs should not count.

Mr. Hewitt undoubtedly hits the nail on the head when he says, "the compensation will be small," but anything in the kitty is better than nothing. We will have to wait until the pro season gets started, check all rosters and then we will give the information to the remaining officers of the Aurora Junior Hockey club and they can deal with the matter direct. Mr. Hewitt now expects a claim of some sort. In the case of Hugh Mair, it is doubtful if Aurora can make a successful claim and other clubs that are involved are St. Catharines, Marlborough and Runnymede C.I. With Joint McComb, it would be Sutton Greenshirts, St. Catharines and Aurora. We know the boys who may or may not take the jump from amateur ranks are anxious that if anybody collects for their contracts, it should be the North York district clubs. All we can do now is sit tight.

Bill Babcock, now attending University of Toronto, has caught himself a place on the University College soccer team, now playing in Varsity interfaculty competition with some success. He has a teammate, Harvey Fingold, of London, former Aurora boy, who is now in his final year in commerce and finance. Harvey still packs plenty of avoirdupois and is located at fullback.

Joe Taylor, former St. Andrew's College all-round athlete who is attending Varsity this season, won the mile event in the junior track meet held last week at Toronto. Scotty Reid, who played junior hockey for Oshawa against Aurora and was a member of the Orillia camp hockey team three years ago in the local O.H.A. group, is home from overseas and has turned out for rugby with Oshawa intermediates.

Goose Hewson, who also played against Aurora that same year for Oshawa and was later catcher for the Newmarket camp baseball team which was the last to win the championship of the Newmarket town league, is out of the army now and will report for hockey duty with one of the Detroit farm teams as soon as the Red Wings break camp and settle on their regular grind.

Had a letter the other day from our old friend, Charlie Rowntree, who is keeping himself busy on the farm but naturally, as fall comes to hand, turns his thoughts to hockey. Charlie is mighty pleased with the way the boys at the Hill are lining up a strong club and while there is nothing definite yet, he expects to return to the helm and feels that this year is to be the Hill's big year.

"We need two good wing men and one defence man," he writes. "If we get Smith from Port Credit and Blakely returns from junior A, we will have a real defence in action." According to Farmer Rowntree, Pete Donkin, the speed boy of Aurora juniors, is discharged from the navy and back in civilian life. Pete is married now, his wife being a Winnipeg girl who in peacetime handled the wire at Winnipeg for Canadian Press and later joined the Wrens. Pete's mother, who was a real follower of the

Decorate Church For Anniversary Services

There has been so much cloudy weather the farmers are finding it a difficult problem to harvest buckwheat and get the root crop in.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lamb, Richvale, are spending a few days visiting Mrs. Lamb's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Richardson, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Cryderman.

There was a real welcome at Bethel church Sunday evening for Fred Cooper, recently returned from a Japanese prison camp. He was captured at Hong Kong. Fred was a former Sunday-school student and his many friends are glad to see him home again.

The anniversary service at Bethel was well attended. Rev. Robert Grierson, Sunderland, was the morning speaker. Lorne Mainprize sang a solo. At the evening service, Rev. Earl Knechtel took his text from Acts 28, 15: "He thanked God and took courage." Mrs. Knechtel sang two solos, Open the Gates of the Temple, and I May Not Pass This Way Again. Mrs. Knechtel is a talented soloist. Mrs. E. Nelson was at the piano. The church was beautiful with autumn leaves and fall flowers and grain blended with products of the garden. Many thanks are due those who worked so faithfully to make the church so attractive and to N. Smith who operated the lights. The unveiling of the honor roll took place at the end of the regular evening service.

Rev. Knechtel spoke highly of the boys who entered the service, and the supreme sacrifice some have made. He extended a welcome home to those who have returned.

Aurora club, lies seriously ill in hospital and the sports fans will be pulling for a complete recovery.

Son Rowntree is getting ready for hockey by playing lacrosse with Woodbridge and during the summer he was playing softball in the district league. Commenting on Joint McComb, Charlie says: "I hope he makes the grade. There are few better hockey players when Joint keeps his head and has a mind to play." From overseas he received a letter from Fat James. "He is still in Holland and they put him in another unit. He was really turned up about it all. He said he was playing lacrosse trying to get off some weight for he weighs around 220 pounds now." A real idea comes from Charlie too. "It would be mighty nice to have all the old Aurora hockey boys back together some night in the winter. There would be around 100 of them. The biggest part of them were on active service. We can be thankful that not many lost their lives. Do you know how many?"

We are going to beat the drums for that idea once a few more of the boys get home and when we have more time to contact those interested. Woodbridge, he says, is going ahead with a memorial hall which will include a rink with curling facilities and plenty of recreation rooms. Surprisingly enough, the folks are thinking in terms of artificial ice, a mighty big proposition for a smaller centre but one that can be managed with the proper organization and foresight. He pays tribute to the Robinson plant which is a busy industry and is leading the way so far as owner-employee relations are concerned and with ideas as timely as tomorrow.

The Woodbridge lacrosse cushion is located in Elm Park which is owned by the firm. He pays tribute too to Reeve John Watson, Major Alex. MacKenzie and others who are doing their utmost to see the people down that way will erect a suitable memorial that will serve the youth of today and tomorrow, as well as the adults and also honor the gallant dead. It was a kind of a long epistle for Charlie to write, considering we hear from him so infrequently, but it was very welcome and we don't need to stress the fact that Charlie sent best regards to all his friends in Aurora and Newmarket.

Plowing matches, according to how you think about them, may or may not be classed as sport but we saw an unusual thing at the South Simcoe plowing match recently. In the juvenile class, three girls and a boy competed. The girl, Little Kathleen Gibbons, aged nine, took second place and did a great job. Keith Keil, the class winner, was 15, while the other boys were all older than Kathleen. That "wenker sex" argument is getting thinner and thinner all the time. So far we haven't seen the North York press boxes invaded by the fair sex as yet but who can tell?

COURT OF APPEAL

 original intention of the parties, the whole agreement with which I was familiar, the amalgamation was based on the fact that there was to be equality of interest.
 I felt in fairness to both parties that that intention should be given effect to.

Among the circumstances open to consideration by the directors was the fact that from the time the matter of taking up the 25 shares was first raised in February, 1944, the appellant had denied the respondent's right to take up the shares because the 18-month period had expired and asserted both verbally and in writing that he was in control and called for a meeting of shareholders to rearrange the directors with the evident object of confirming and assuring his control of the company's affairs.
 His attitude indicated that,
 while seeking to take advantage of his interpretation of the provisions of the agreement respecting the option to deny the respondent an equality of interest, he overlooked or ignored various elaborate provisions of the agreement not tied in any way to the exercise of the option, designed to protect the equality of control. For example, he gave no consideration to the provisions requiring the parties to endeavor to agree on some other person to replace Mr.
 Mathews and providing that only in the event of their failure to so agree after a period of three months could any other steps be taken.

The respondent, Mulock, not having bound himself not to apply for or take up 25 shares after the 18-month period had expired, there was no reason why the directors should not deal with the application in the way best designed to carry out the objective of both parties. It seems apparent that the allotment of the shares in question would accomplish the purpose of equality of interest and control which, from the outset, underlay the whole transaction.

Much reliance was placed by the appellant on the decision in Bonisteel v. Collis Leather Co.
 Ltd. (1919) 45 O.L.R. 195, and it was urged that, even although the directors made the allotment without any ulterior motive and what they conceived to be in the interests of the company, it was a one-sided allotment of stock with a view to affecting the control and was improper under the decision in the Bonisteel case. In my view, the facts are to be clearly distinguished. As pointed out by the learned trial judge, the evidence in that case established that the action of the directors deprived the plaintiff of the control of the shares and was made for "the purpose of shifting from one body to another the power of electing directors and so controlling the company's policy." That decision follows Martin v. Gibson (supra) and, in my view there is nothing in the decision which, under the circumstances of the case at bar, casts any shadow on the allotment here in question.
 The directors were trustees for the shareholders as a whole; as said by Chancellor Boyd in Martin v. Gibson: "not the majority who may for ordinary purposes control affairs—but the majority plus the minority—all in fact who being shareholders constitute the very substance (so to speak) of the incorporated body."

For all practical purposes, the shareholders here consisted of the appellant and the respondent, Mulock. Their joint objective and purpose, as evidenced by the agreement in writing and supported by all the other circumstances, was to effect both equality of interest and control.
 It cannot be thought that either of the parties would have considered the proposal with the prospect of turning his assets into the continuing company and being left without equality of voice in the management of its affairs. The interest of the company was, under the circumstances, the objectives which underlay the agreement, and to which both parties subscribed in their written agreement. In this view, the directors were acting wholly bona fide and in the interests of the company in making the allotment in question.
 In fact, it might be strongly 38.

Moved by E. M. Legge and seconded by L. B. Goodfellow, it was resolved that the council grant the King and Vaughan Plowmen's Association $50 to be used towards its prize list for their plowing match being held this year at Kettleby.

Moved by Mr. Legge and seconded by Wm. E. Barker, it was resolved that the treasurer be instructed to accept from the Ontario Department of Highways a cheque for the sum of $11,617.90 as interim subsidy on road expenditure for this year to August 31.

Moved by E. M. Legge and seconded by Mr. Armstrong, a resolution authorized a cheque of $2 to each of the following for fence viewers services: W. H.
 Gillham, Aubrey Campbell, J. W.
 Burns, H. Brydon, Clifford Pen-elton, F. K. Sheardown.

L. B. Goodfellow moved and Wm. E. Barker seconded a resolution that $27.50, 50 percent of the hospitalization refunds collected during the period from January 1 to September 30, be issued to York county.

On a motion by Mr. Barker and by Mr. Goodfellow, the treasurer's cheque to the following to cover loss of sheep worried by dogs:
 Walter Brown, $25; Roy Sharp, $49.50; Clare Shaw, $12; and to the following valuations: H. N.
 Wauchope, $2; Ross Black, $8.

argued that to deny the application under all the circumstances could only be viewed as being in the interests of the appellant personally as opposed to the interests and objectives of the company.

The appeal should be dismissed with costs.
 Robertson, C. J. O. agrees with Gillanders, J. A.

Laidlaw, J. A.: "I concur in the opinion of my brother, Gillanders, and desire only to set forth in brief form the particular considerations leading to my judgment."

(1) The very essence of the agreement made between the respondent and appellant was that they should each have equal interest in and control of the amalgamated enterprise.

(2) The omission of the respondent to purchase 25 shares of the treasury stock of the company within a period of 18 months from the date of the agreement did not in any way alter or affect the real intention of the parties to the amalgamation agreement.

(3) That omission is not a factor in determining the sole question in controversy, i.e., whether the issue by the directors of the company of 25 shares of the treasury stock to the respondent was valid.

(4) The answer to that question depends (a) upon the good faith, or otherwise, of the directors in making the allotment, and (b) upon whether or not the allotment was for the benefit of all shareholders—the majority plus the minority.

(5) The directors acted in good faith in making the allotment and "within the scope of the functions delegated to them, in the manner best suited to benefit their cestui que trust"; per Romilly, M.R. in York and North Midland R. W. Co. v. Hudson (1853) 10 Benv. 485, 491, cited by Boyd C. in Martin v.
 Gibson (1908) 15 O.L.R. 623 at 631.

(6) The allotment was consistent with the true intention of all persons having any beneficial interest in the company as to equality of control. Conversely a refusal of the directors to allot the shares would defeat that intention.

(7) Finally there was evidence to show that the appellant was seeking to exercise control in the constitution of the board of directors and otherwise, and it would not be in accordance with his agreement with the respondent, that he should be in a position to do so.

I would dismiss the appeal with costs.

MOUNT ALBERT W.I. IS SPONSORING HALLOWEEN PARTY

The Women's Institute have for many years sponsored a community party on Halloween night and this year it will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 31, in the town hall. Those in charge will try and have an evening of fun and frolic for both kiddies and grown-ups. Prizes will be given for all ages and parents are asked to bring a treat for the children. This is always looked forward to. It is hoped that everyone will try and make it a good time, especially for the kiddies.

MOUNT ALBERT Library Wins Praise Of Provincial Inspector

In case you do not know Mount Albert has one of the best public libraries in this part of the county. A recent visitor, the inspector of libraries, was so pleased with it that the department grant was very much increased. Last week several members of the board, under the direction of the president, Mrs. G. W. E. Macpherson, wended their way to the library room with pails and floor cloths and gave it a thorough cleaning and put all the books in order. Now if you have not a ticket for the library, you can help this work if you just buy one. Something much needed in our village is a few more street lights. Now that hydro can be more freely used why can't our own fathers see that we have more lights in the dark corners. Rev. Austin Lunau, Toronto, and sister, Mrs. Burrage, Unionville, were guests last week of Mr. and Mrs. Alsey Lunau. They also visited the other members of the Lunau family.

Fit-Lieut. Alvin Dike, who has his discharge from the R.C. A.F., is spending a few days in town at the home of his sister, Mrs. J. Case, before taking up new duties in civilian life. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Johnson (Flora Griffith), who were married Oct. 6 in Westmoreland church, Toronto, by the pastor, Rev. R. L. Hunter, left on Wednesday for their new home at Valleyfield. Mr. Johnston expects to be sent later to the research plant at Chalk river where he will be in electrical work. Pte. Laurie Wagg returned last Monday from overseas and is at his home in Uxbridge. Mr. C. A. French, Ottawa, who has been visiting at the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. E. Hartman, left on Monday for home. Mrs. W. H. Shields accompanied him back to Ottawa. The latest shipment to the Red Cross included: one red sweater, one blue baby jacket, four prs. khaki socks, eight babies gowns, three wine red girls' dresses, one quilt. Saturday is the last day to share your shoes, clothing or bedding with the people of Europe who are suffering for want of clothes to keep them warm so get it to your post office by then.

MOUNT ALBERT Hartman United Church Has Anniversary Oct. 21

Hartman United church will hold anniversary services next Sunday evening, Oct. 21, at 7.30 o'clock, when Rev. H. D. McCormack, Unionville, will be the guest speaker. On Monday evening there will be an illustrated lecture by Mrs. D. Ratcliffe and music by Baker Hill double quartet under Mrs. Jas. Oldham. There will be a social time for all and lunch at the close of the evening.

Mount Albert anniversary services will be held Sunday, Nov. 4, when Rev. A. F. Bamford, Zephyr, will be guest speaker at the morning service and Rev. Gordon Lapp, Keswick, at the evening service. Mrs. Lyons and her choir of Scarboro Bluffs will provide the music at the evening service.

Sunday, Oct. 28, will be observed in all United churches as Men and Missions Sunday and Mr. D. Rogers, Toronto, will be the guest speaker at the morning service and at Hartman in the afternoon.

H. Leadbetter has moved to his new home at Queensville. Mr. Leadbetter recently sold his business in town to James Sloss, Newmarket, on account of ill health. During the years Mr. Leadbetter lived in Mount Albert he was a good community man, being on the school board, police trustee of the village and a member of the park board. Both he and Mrs. Leadbetter were always ready to help with anything in the community and both of them will certainly be missed. We wish them every success in their new home.

Stewart Thompson purchased Mr. Leadbetter's house and has moved in. Clarence Harten has bought the house on the hill vacated by Stewart Thompson and on Saturday moved to his new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Hammond, Detroit, motored over last week to visit Mrs. Hammond's cousin, Mrs. H. Hayes.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Allison returned from their honeymoon on Saturday and spent the weekend with Mr. Allison's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Allison. They will make their home in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Madill and Marilyn, Acton, spent the weekend at the home of Mr. Madill's sister, Mrs. Guy Williamson.

Mr. Albert Madill returned home with his son for a few days recently.

MOUNT ALBERT 30 PRESENT AS W.I. HAS OCT. MEETING

The October meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. James Hammett last Thursday afternoon. Thirty ladies were present.

Mrs. Roy Graham, convenor of home economics, had charge of the program.

Mrs. Sinclair gave a paper on the Queen Mary Cot. Mrs. Howard Morton gave a demonstration on salad plates. An address on rayons was given by Mrs. John Case. Mrs. Janson and Wilda sang several duets. It was decided to hold the annual Halloween party at the Community hall on October 31.

BROWN HILL Mr. Mrs. Chas. Pringle Have 60th Anniversary

Oct. 11—A 60th wedding anniversary was the occasion for rejoicing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pringle of Baldwin.

Mr. Pringle fought in the Northwest Rebellion and, at a banquet this summer, held in the honor of those who took part in that fight, he was one of the honored guests. Medals and ribbons tell of his prowess and shooting activities. "Hunting up north in the fall" isn't the same if "Charlie" is absent.

For over 50 years Mr. and Mrs. Pringle have been in the general store business at Baldwin. He runs his car and takes part in the activities of the community. The celebrants have three children, Mrs. Jewell and Mrs. O'Brien of Baldwin, and Mrs. Rose of Brown Hill. There are 18 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.
